THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

Wholesale Massacres—Sickening and Horrible Details

PARIS, May 31 —A most revolting sight occurred to day on the plaza in front of Hotel de Ville Thirty three Communists, among whom were several women, were shot in a body by a company of soldiers Around three sides of the square troops to the number of 1,500 were drawn up under command of Col Guizot At 5 o'clock, prisoners who had been confined in coal cellars back of the Porter's Lodge in Hotel de Ville, were brought out hands tied behind their backs, marched out by the main gateway through a file of soldiers, and reaching the center of the wide area in front of Hotel de Ville, were ranged in a row and made to kneel down close together When the company was in line and nearly ready to fire, Col Guizot stepped forward and told the prisoners in a few words that they were to suffer death for having been caught in the act of setting fire to buildings and dwellings in Paris At this moment the women uttered piercing shrieks and began to sway themselves back and forth The officer advanced and made them keep still by striking them with the flat of his sword. A few moments afterwards a volley was fired, and when the smoke cleared away, a most horrible sight was presented Three of the women who were in the middle row, between the men, were still living and writhing in awful agony A second volley was fired, and a third, and not until the sixth did all the prisoners cease to live The dead bodies were flung into three scavenger carts and carried away

CURRENT NOTES

And now they are practicing newspaper amenities in Kansas—influenced no doubt, by the example of the great Chicago dailies One editor in that State speaks of a rival concern as "that filthy, slimy sheet which emanates from a buzzard roost," with a great deal more of the same sort Next?

Cincinnati has a genuine sensation in the form of a physician bearing the rare name of Jones, who has been elected a member of the City Council and refuses to serve because, as he alleges, he was chosen without his knowledge or consent This seems to be one of the instances in which history refuses to repeat itself

A Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Item, says "It is believed that the new treaty was made public through the treachery and cupidity of a clerk in the State Department, who was afterwards barely restrained from suicide It is a bad business" Which? the selling of a State secret, or the attempted suicide?

The New York council of the Union League recently passed resolutions thanking the Connecticut Republicans for their manly exposure of Democratic frauds in the late election, and acquitting the Tammany leaders of that city with any direct connection with the frauds, not from any virtue of their own, but by reason of the stupid blundering of their imitators in New Haven, who have all the will to cheat but lack Tammany dexterity in manipulating ballots.

Scandinavian immigration appears to be reviving It was the largest in 1868 and 69, when the number reached about 40,000 from Sweden and 4,000 from Norway Last season there was a considerable reduction the number being hardly half that of the previous years mentioned At the rate immigrants are now coming, the number will be much larger than last year, though not as large as in 1869 Many of them are farmers who have sold off everything at home with the intention of reinvesting in farm lands on their arrival in the United States These people are frugal and industrious, and will prove a most acceptable class

Land Titles at Kalama

OFFICE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD CO }
PORTLAND Oregon June 1 1871 }

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN—SIR Will you do me the favor to publish the enclosed note from Judge Strong, and much oblige.

Your obedient servant,
J W SPRAGUE

GEN. JOHN W SPRAGUE ASSISTANT TREASURER AND GENERAL AGENT N P R R Co—SIR Since reports have been circulated that there is some defect in the title to the lands upon which the city of Kalama or some part of it, is situated, I have at your request thoroughly re examined the title which I had previously investigated

You may assure purchasers that the title is perfect I have examined the records and original conveyances The entire chain of title and the persons who have occupied it since it was taken up as a donation claim, are known to me and I am acquainted with the signatures of most of the parties whose names as parties witnesses or officers are upon the deeds, and they are genuine The deeds are in all respects executed witnessed, acknowledged and certified according to law

There has been, upon comparison, a slight mistake discovered in the record of one deed But it was not material as affecting the title, and the land has been openly and notoriously occupied under the deed This mistake is now properly corrected And I pronounce the title without a flaw.

WM STRONG,
Attorney N P R R. Co.

The Times says neither the Government of Canada as a whole, nor Sir John McDonald as the first Minister, are committed to the treaty They have taken care to reserve to themselves the right of most complete freedom of action in the matter

The Citizen says Sir John McDonald displayed sound judgment in avoiding an extreme and taking a more moderate course, as it is understood the signing of the treaty was with reluctance and reservation

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1 —Virtue Gold and Silver Mining Company, to operate in Baker county, Oregon, about eight miles from Baker City, capital one million, Trustees W B Crane Thomas Cole, Jr , Hill Beechy, J W Virtue and Abbott H Brown, was incorporated to day

A Chinaman assailed through sheer cussedness and stoned until he was insensible by boys on Fourth street yesterday afternoon, died in the hospital to day No arrests made

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1 —The following is a summary of the proceedings in the Fair case to day The counsel for the defense moved for a new trial on the grounds set forth in the affidavits, which he proceeded to read as follows Mrs Mary G Smith's affidavit sets forth Mrs Fair's good conduct previous to her acquaintance with Crittenden, Mrs. Fair charges that the jury, while at the Lick House heard people talk of the case, and that they were prejudiced against her by somebody telling them that she had said they were a set of wretches, etc , the. Henry W Beach, one of the jurors, had been strongly biased in advance, which fact be suppressed on being sworn when called as a juror, that her trial was consequently null and void, etc

Affidavits of Cook and Quint, counsel for the defense, set forth in detail the questions to Beach, and his answers, at his examination as to his qualifications as a juror That of W H Tompkins sets forth that he knew her in Texas in her childhood and ever since that Col Fair was a Mason, that she applied in 1862 for relief as the widow of a Mason, which application was refused Mrs Fair also makes affidavit to the same fact, and says she cannot tell whether Beach was a member of the Masonic Board of Relief at that time, or not The point to this and several other affidavits is to show that Beach was a Master Mason and ex officer, a member of the Masonic Board of Relief was prejudiced against her on account of Crittenden's being a Mason and suppressed the facts, and denied opinions in order to get upon the jury

The prosecution introduced the affidavit of Beach in which he says that on the 15th of September 1870 he went to Truckee, in the employ of Mr Wand of this city, to take charge of Mr Burckhalter's store, receiving the money while Mr. Burckhalter and Mr Greedy acted as salesmen that they were all in the store a greater portion of the time, that he was introduced to Mrs Burckhalter, and met her occasionally in the store during business hours When he received San Francisco papers he would glance hastily at them Remembered the account of the shooting, but did not know Mr Crittenden or Mrs Fair Did not read of his death while there, and never knew the difference between murder in the first or second degree till this trial he denies the use of the language imputed to him, or any thing of like import , did not form an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused, and participated in no conversation about the case. He started for San Francisco about the 18th of November Had no conversation with Mrs Welch about the case, took meals at her house I expressed no opinion to Dr Lyford , is a French man, and spoke but little with affiant , did not know Sternhart. He says he knew that Mrs Fair applied to the Masons for relief, but did not oppose it, nor use the language at that time attributed to him by Mr Young Was not at that time a member of the particular body to which she applied He says he tried to avoid being a juror, that he sympathized with Mrs Fair during the trial and found a verdict on the evidence given in court and the law without any bias or prejudice whatever, and that he lost his business agency by being obliged to serve

Sheriff White and Deputy Sheriff Boyd in affidavits, corroborate the statement that Beach endeavored to keep off the jury all he could The affidavits of A P Hotaling, Stewart Menzies, Alex Badlam, S McCullough, W H Richards, E E Dewey, T M Wand, S M Balch, W T Reynolds, A D McDonald, M Ashbury, H E Highton, H N Tilton, B Pulverman C O Sorry, Leary Heller, W W Lawton, T E Baugh T E Bonney and Bosqui testify to the good reputation of Mr Beach for truth, probity and honesty The affidavit of the entire jury describes the manner of their being kept together, says they slept in separate apartments of the Lick House, but were locked in by the Deputy Sheriff that they did, by consent of the court, visit the theaters, the Cliff House and race course, but had no communication with others at such times, that they did not read the reports of the trial in the daily papers or the comments thereon, and that no reports whatever reached them to the detriment of the accused and finally that the verdict was found on the evidence and the law as given them by the court

Postmaster Campbell, of Truckee, affirms that he knew Beach all the time he was there intimately, and never heard him express an opinion on the case or allude to it This ended the morning session

At the afternoon session defense introduced two affidavits showing that Beach was a Master Mason in Crocket Lodge, and as such a member of the Masonic Board of Relief in 1862, when Mrs Fair applied for relief as the widow of Col Fair, and was refused Mr Campbell, for the prosecution, then asked an adjournment until to morrow to enable him to prepare counter affidavits, and the motion was granted

It is evident that a most determined and energetic effort is to be made to secure a new trial and the transfer of the case to another county Both of Mrs Fair's physicians, who testified so strongly in her defense have since the trial, been discharged unpaid, but her original counsel are retained and appear to enjoy her full confidence

N P R R

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

SIR Permit me through the columns of your paper to urge upon the consideration of the persons having in charge the locating of that portion of the N P R R extending through Lewis county, a few items pertaining to the general interests of the people at large which the conductors of this great enterprise may have as yet failed to notice It would be folly on my part, and an insult to the company, for me or any other citizen to attempt to decide upon the most feasible route, or insist upon the natural advantages for the construction of the road by any particular route, after the several surveys already executed by the company Yet we feel that as citizens we have a right and that the public interest demands that we exert that right so far as propriety will permit, in placing before the company the various advantages to be derived from the construction of the road by any route which will be to the more general benefit and advantage of the people. It is our purpose more in particular at this time, to show the advantages to be gained from the building of the road via Newaukum valley, provided there be a depot located on or near Saunders' prairie over that to be derived from a depot at Claquato, on the route via Stearns creek

1st It will make it of easy access from the entire Newaukum valley, which could not be reached if at the latter place, and that of the Chehalis for near fourteen miles, in all containing from 50 000 to 75,000 acres of the best of farming land

2d It is not only central for the above named valleys, but is nearly the center of Lewis county, and the point at which the county seat will eventually be located, on account of various reasons not worthy of notice in this connection

3d Situated, as it would be, near the confluence of the Newaukum and Chehalis rivers the latter of which is navigable for small sized steamers to this place almost the entire year, it will afford the people residing on these streams an opportunity to bring their produce to the depot in their boats, a much easier and less expensive mode of transportation than that of hauling with teams

4th With all the above enumerated advantages over Claquato, and situated in the largest tract of farming land in Lewis county viz Newaukum valley, it would be destined in a short time to build up a town that would far exceed Claquato in population, business and beauty The people of Claquato and residents along that route boast of their proffered liberality in donating lands to the company, if the road be built by that place, but in this particular they are far behind their neighbors on the other route So far as right of way is concerned, to the extent of our knowledge, all the land owners along this route will be liberal, and either make the company a clear deed to the land over which the road runs, so long as it is to be used for railroad purposes, or sell it to them on terms of liberality not to be questioned Hoping these considerations may meet the notice of the gentlemen having control of this enterprise, permit me to subscribe myself CHEHALIS.

Route of the New Railroad

The route of the new overland railroad from Davisville, Cal , to Ogden, in Utah, is described in the certificate of incorporation as follows

Know all men by these presents, that we, whose names are hereunto subscribed, being the subscribers to the stock of a contemplated railroad in the States of California and Oregon and the Territories of Idaho and Utah commencing at or near the town of Davisville, county of Yolo, State of California thence northerly through the Sacramento Valley, and thence in a northeasterly direction, crossing the northern boundary of California, at a point near Goose lake, to a point near Christmas lake, in the State of Oregon thence easterly through the State of Oregon the Territory of Idaho and the Territory of Utah, to Ogden City, in Utah also, from a point on the first named route in the bend of the Pitt river, near the 41st parallel of latitude, northwesterly in the State of Oregon with the railroad of the Oregon and California Railroad Company, also, from a point on the first named route, near Christmas lake westerly to a junction with the railroad of the Oregon and California Railroad Company, at or near Lower Klamath lake, in the State of Oregon—in nine hundred and forty three miles of railroad or thereabouts

The length of this road with its several branches is stated to be 943 miles The stockholders are

W F Roelofson, San Francisco, 260 000 shares Milton S Latham San Francisco, 18 000 shares I Friedlander, San Francisco, 18 000 shares Richard P Hammond San Francisco, 18 000 shares, A Gansl, San Francisco, 18,000 shares Eugene L Sullivan, San Francisco, 18 000 shares F D Atherton, San Francisco, 18 000 shares J P Jackson, San Francisco 18 000 shares J B Frisbie, Vallejo 18 000 shares Alexander de Laski, London England 18 000 Wm H Tillinghast, San Francisco, 18,000 shares Edward H Greene by his attorney in fact, Milton S Latham, London, 18 000 Rudolf Sulzback, Frankfort on Main, by his attorney in fact, Milton S Latham, 24,000 shares Julius May, Frankfort-on Main, by his attorney in fact, Milton S Latham, 18,000 shares

The capital stock is $50,000,000 in shares of $100 each. California journals speak in the most hopeful terms of the prospects of the enterprise, and are certain that it will be pushed forward speedily It will be seen that the plan contemplates a connection with the railroad system of Oregon substantially in accordance with the proposition of Senator Williams, which the Oregon Democracy under the lead of the Herald and the Central Pacific Company, opposed with such bitterness a year ago

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 2, 1871.

Republican Opinion in Pennsylvania.

Some days ago we printed the resolution adopted by the Republicans of Pennsylvania at their State Convention held a fortnight since at Harrisburg, in which it was declared that "the Administration of President Grant meets the full approval of the Republican party of Pennsylvania," and that his successfull course "points to him as an honored leader of the party, and a proper standard-bearer for it in 1872." The New York Times comments on this resolution by saying that the Republican party of Pennsylvania, a State whose electoral college is second only in importance to that of New York, does not think it too early to discuss the question of the next Presidency, and the above mentioned resolution is a significant reply to the fault-finders. The administration of General Grant is emphatically approved, and the President himself is named as the choice of the Republicans of Pennsylvania in 1872. The Convention had a more important duty to perform than the nomination of State officers. Its members felt that the result in Pennsylvania next fall would have a very considerable influence on the canvass of 1872, and wisely resolved not to allow their opinions to remain doubtful. The Presidential succession is always a troubled question in the State canvass which immediately precedes the national nominating Convention. The Republicans of Pennsylvania have not avoided the issue, but have chosen to express unreserved confidence in Gen. Grant.

The Times proceeds to remark that there are several Republican newspapers in different parts of the country which are evincing a desire to quarrel with measures adopted by the administration, which measures they would find no fault with if the Democratic party were their authors. Previous to the Republican National Convention of 1864, as that paper truly observes, the same factious opposition which is now being made to the Administration of President Grant was directed against Mr. Lincoln. Then, as now, it was confined to a comparatively limited section of the party. When the point came to be decided, the party felt that a change at that important crisis would greatly endanger, [illegible] destroy, the objects it had at heart, and Mr. Lincoln was re-elected. Since then, the rebellion has been conquered, and the Union restored but the danger has not wholly passed away. That the Union was not destroyed, and that the country is now at peace, are results wholly due to the Republican party. The restoration of the Union was jeopardized [illegible] moment by the course taken by Andrew Johnson. Gen. Grant, commander of [illegible] army and acting Secretary of War, lent [illegible] aid to Congress in thwarting the plans of President Johnson. With the lessons [illegible] few weeks deeply impressed on [illegible] Gen. Grant came to the Presidency [illegible] that he had no policy to enforce against the will of the people. His acts have [illegible] declaration was earnestly [illegible] the people at large, although quiet and unexcited, cordially approved of his efforts in their behalf. The resolution of the Pennsylvania Convention speaks the sentiment of the whole party when it affirms that there is to-day no man more entitled to the confidence of the whole country than President Grant. Those who find fault with the policy which the Republicans of Pennsylvania [illegible] as that of the people, do not suggest a better one; and it will puzzle them to [illegible] man who is, upon the whole, more deserving of support and encouragement than the present incumbent of the Presidential office.

Look to the Record.

The Herald refers to some remarks of ours on railroad affairs, and resents our statement that itself is a "consistent organ of a California corporation." To say this, it declares, is to "maliciously falsify" its position and opinions. Well, let it be called an inconsistent organ of a California corporation then, if it likes the appellation better. For it has constantly done the work of the Central Pacific Company, though its methods have been quite inconsistent and contradictory. When it says that we "maliciously falsify" its position it must suppose that we have so poor a memory that we retain no recollection of the course it pursued last year for two weeks prior to the election, when it dropped politics entirely and changed the whole contest into a fight against Oregon railroad interests and in favor of the plans and schemes of a California corporation; that we have forgotten its gross and vituperative diatribes against Senator Williams for proposing a measure to secure the symmetrical development of the railway system of the State, according to the plan laid down by the Legislature; that we do not remember how fiercely it denounced the action of the recent Legislature in instructing Senator Kelly to oppose the scheme of the Central Pacific Company, and how, after he had taken a pledge on the subject, it deliberately advised him to disregard it and brand himself with dishonor, in order to serve the interests of a corporation which it had been laboring so long and so earnestly to promote. Do we "maliciously falsify" when we say this has been the course of the Herald? Next thing that paper will be denying that it ever opposed the Republican party and Senator Williams on railroad issues; it will be declaring that it never advocated the Ladd-Pengra-Central Pacific combination in the matter of building a railroad over the so-called Pengra route and preventing the connection by way of Southern Oregon, and it will roundly assert that it never expressed disapprobation of the resolutions of the Legislature and the pledge given by Senator Kelly. The public will judge whether we have "maliciously falsified" the position of the Herald, or not. And as the editor of that paper puts on such an air of virtuous indignation and talks of honor and truth and kindred virtues, it would perhaps be advisable for one of such "honest" susceptibilities to quit a position in which, as an advocate of a California corporation, he has placed himself in antagonism to the general sentiment of Oregon and the declared sentiment of his own party as expressed through the Legislature, and get back to the really useful and honorable occupation of wheeling sawdust, which in an unfortunate hour he abandoned to take control of an organ which has been run for more than a year mainly in the interest of the aforenamed California corporation, and which has quarrelled with and been repudiated by its own party on this very issue.

In taking up the Elliott-Holladay controversy, which belongs exclusively to the courts, and giving long articles from the attorneys for Mr. Elliott, as editorials; in manifesting a disposition to assist in putting a stop, if possible, to all railroad work in the State and thus indefinitely retarding the progress of Oregon, the Herald is simply continuing the programme of last year, when it made so desperate an effort against the railroad enterprises of the State and contended for rival schemes cooked up by a California monopoly. As we have before remarked, we give no heed to the personal questions involved in the Elliott-Holladay controversy, and are sure that the people of Oregon take no interest in either party except in so far as the public interests are affected by what they do. But we are very much inclined to think that if the matter had continued to depend on Mr. Elliott, and on the mythical "A. J. Cook & Co.," with whom the people of Oregon were deluded for an indefinite period, we should have had no railroads in Oregon during this century; and nine-tenths of the people of the State are very much of this way of thinking.

The Augusta, (Ga.) Chronicle and Sentinel, avowedly delivering the views of A. H. Stephens, surrenders three columns of its space to the exposition of what ought, in its and Mr. Stephens's opinion, to be orthodox Democratic doctrine in regard to the last three amendments to the Constitution: "Mr. Stephens does not hold either the XIVth and XVth amendments, so-called, to be valid and rightful parts of the Constitution, because they were and are nothing but the offsprings of gross usurpations of power, passed by force, fraud, and perfidy."

Mrs. Duniway in her New Northwest of this week has a vigorous article on the "hardships of farmers' wives." She says that many wives never have a dollar, and cannot hire help when it is needed, and their lives are devoted to toil and drudgery "to secure means for a second wife to scatter." A pithy and telling way of stating both a wrong and its result. But this is not the case merely with farmers' wives; it happens both in town and country.

A magnificent statue of President Lincoln has been cast at Munich (Germany), to be erected at Tremont Park, Philadelphia. A commanding position has been secured for it in the Park, where it will be placed soon.

Democrats can only find new principles for their party by taking them from the work of their adversaries. Witness the attempt of Vallandigham in Ohio to get on "Radical" ground.

OREGON.

The new steamboat Alert at Oregon City is ready to launch and will be sent off in a few days.

It is said that crowds of passengers continue on the P. T. Co.'s boats up and down the Wallamet river.

A ministerial association composed of clergymen of different denominations is in session at Salem. Fifteen clergymen attended on Monday.

Holbert has gone into business again at Salem. He will vend soda water, but probably will avoid the article which he once sold labelled "Don't Care."

From the Statesman: The State Treasurer informs us that the State taxes of Baker and Umatilla counties are as yet unpaid. The balances in the Treasury are running low, there being only about enough on hand to pay the warrants audited and allowed by the late Commission.

The Desolation of Paris.

The terrible ferocity of the Versailles soldiery in Paris and the wholesale executions by volleys of musketry and mitrailleuses make humanity shudder, and suggest a doubt whether the party that has triumphed is any better than the faction that has been overthrown.

Of the desolation of Paris a contemporary says:

Paris is literally in ashes if not also in sackcloth to-day. The carnage has kept even pace with the smoke and fire. Thousands must be among the dead and tens of thousands of the wounded. It is the breaking up of a very long winter of discontent, caused by liberty run mad, Government become rotten with corruption, and society sunken into a state of atheism and moral degradation such as we look in vain for in any other direction than in the lost cities covered by the Dead Sea. If what is left shall have moral vitality enough to reform itself, dreadful as has been the purgation, it will be well for France and all the civilized world that it has happened. If there is not that much moral vitality left, it were better that the destruction had been as complete as that which the son of the Emperor Vespasian inflicted on Jerusalem. The boast of inflated Frenchmen that Paris was the heart of civilization, was either a monstrous falsehood or a terrible satire on the thing called civilization. For half a century it has been the plague-spot of Europe and America; a foul nest of vice, social disorder, political heresy, and a breeder of chaos.

Who is to blame for all this? Not the Bonapartes. They governed with all the allowances in favor of liberty which were consistent with order and their own safety. And let it not be said they were usurpers. For that matter all dynasties began in usurpation from Cæsar to Bonaparte. They are most legal who begin with most of the approval of the people. The Divine Right theory is a humbug that might have been well enough suited for the imagination of small, pent-up, exclusive States like that which saw Saul, the son of Kish, anointed King, but modern philosophy repudiates it contemptuously in favor of the sovereign will of the people. No dynasty ever had more of this popular approval than that of the Corsican, which Paris now scorns just as she did the Bourbons eighty years ago, and as she would a Republic or any other form of government twenty years old. The blame is not at the door of the Bonapartes. The war was not Louis Napoleon's. He was forced either to fight a foreign State or his own people, and he chose what he thought the least evil for his country. The history of the French nation, especially of Paris, brings to mind that of Rome from the close of the Golden Age to that of the final collapse. Like the Romans of that era of constant revolution, the French have manifested a constitutional incapacity for self-government, for the restraints of law, for any permanence in government. Like the Latins, they have been cruel to each other and insolent to the rest of mankind. Their religion has contributed to their cruelty. The massacre of St. Bartholomew's Day, and the revocation of the edict of Nantz, with the persecutions of the Huguenots that followed, and the assassination of the King of Navarre, which preceded, were acts as remorseless as those of Goth, Lombard, Hun and Vandal wreaked upon the eternal city by the tribes whom history satirizes under the hated name of "vandals." In all the latest of these frightful caprices, Paris has led France. The rural peasantry have been docile till roused by the combustible capital. Perhaps if the capital were compelled to sit in ashes and wear sack-cloth for a century, the nation might change its fickle constitution and learn the wisdom of moderation that can alone qualify it for rational freedom and peace.

Gen. Sheridan does not believe that the operations in European warfare will compare with those in the recent contest in the United States. The amount of hard work in a campaign is not so great there, as they have fine rail and other roads and few impediments of any kind, making their operations a striking contrast with the labors of the army of the Union. The European armies were better supplied with small arms than those of the United States, but nowhere were they as well clad, nor was the commissariat so good as in the United States. The soldiers of this country were also far more intelligent.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1st.—Justice Struver was to-day granted a divorce from his wife on account of a beastly transaction which took place on board the steamer New World last winter, in consequence of which her companion resigned from the police force.

In the case of Mrs. Beranger, who sued for a divorce from her husband on the ground of extreme cruelty, it was shown that she had left her husband and children and united her fortunes with an affinity on the most advanced free love progression and woman's rights plan. The court denied her petition.

The steamer Japan carried away $384,000 in treasure and $110,000 in merchandise to-day. In the latter was included 6,000 barrels of flour and 700 centals barley.

Quint will make the opening argument in the petition of Mrs. Fair for a new trial to-morrow, confining himself wholly to the eligibility of Beach to sit as a juror.

The schooner Fanny, from Ounalaski, reports that the schooner Idaho, Capt. Pray, left Belkofsky Nov. 7th, 1870, for Ounalaski during a strong northwester. Nothing was heard from her. On the 8th of February some doors which were recognized as belonging to her washed ashore near Ounalaski, and no doubt she was lost with all on board. She was cleared by Hutchinson, Kohl & Co., and owned by A. Wasserman, of this city.

The inquest in the case of August Kamp is nearly completed. Testimony is as conclusive as possible against Devine, alias "The Chicken."

Arrived—Brig Taney, Ounalaski.

Sailed—Bark Forest Queen, Port Townsend.

Terrible Atrocity.

OROVILLE, June 1—This morning at daylight, at Cherokee Flat, as Miss Susie McDonald, daughter of the late Thomas McDonald, accompanied by a Miss Glass and Dr. Sawyer, was returning home from a wedding party, was suddenly seized by a man known as Austrian George, who sprang from concealment and grasping her by the back of the head, cut her throat and stabbed her to the heart. After the deed, the young lady ran about 50 feet and fell dead in the arms of Miss Glass. Alarm was immediately given, and the whole country is in pursuit of the murderer. The excitement caused by this atrocity is intense, and should the perpetrator fall into the hands of those in pursuit of him, quick and summary punishment will surely follow.

From Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, June 1—The stockholders of the Los Angeles Silver Mining Co. left this morning well supplied with men and material for a thorough prospecting of some of the leads belonging to the company, located 140 miles from Los Angeles, near the Mojave river. Some surface mineral brought in assayed $377 per ton. This tract of country is almost entirely unexplored.

ARIZONA.

More Indian Outrages.

SAN DIEGO, June 1.—The Tucson Citizen of the 26th ult. says: Early yesterday morning eleven men on horseback, coming this way from Mexico, were attacked by a band of sixty Apaches at a point two miles north of the Sonora line. Two men were killed and two wounded. Four of the horses were wounded and abandoned, as were also the dead men. The remainder of the party escaped to Kitchen's ranch, and there met two men just arrived from Agua Frio, one of whom was wounded in a fight at that place. As they passed Calabasas they saw two murdered men, one of whom was J. B. Blanchard, the other a young man named Smith. Calabasas had been attacked by about fifty Apaches. In the fight John Petty killed four Indians. No other damage is known to have been done, though the unequal contest lasted several hours. Simultaneous attacks at those three points show the savages to be in force. Their weapons are needle guns and Henry rifles; no arrows are used. These bands belong to a war party of the Cachese, who on being pushed after the fight with Cushing, fled to Mexico, and are now returning to renew the fight. Capt. A. Moore, having got enough pack animals together, leaves Tucson to-morrow with 60 men, and will exert all his power to bring the Cachese to battle.

NEVADA.

Fire at Eureka.

EUREKA, June 1.—At 11 o'clock last night the Olympic building was discovered to be on fire. At the time the fire commenced there was music and dancing and a large crowd in the house. Some dispute had arisen a short time previous in which a young man named Maher had been refused an opportunity to dance, for the reason that he had no money. He was exasperated, and with a stick struck one of the side lamps, which exploded, and the flames immediately fired the house. Being of very light material it was burned rapidly. The exertions of the citizens saved the buildings on each side. The house burned to the ground and whatever was saved was in a damaged condition. The ice cream saloon next to the burned building on the north was uninjured, but the furniture was removed and much damaged. The bakery next to the ice cream saloon was completely stripped of furniture and stock. The loss of the building burned was about $1,000; the damage to the ice cream saloon and bakery about $100 each.

At the Richmond furnace yesterday afternoon one of the hands named McCullough was injured by the explosion of slag. His face and one eye are badly scalded.

Two settlers named McClure and Cleary, in Wasco county about ten miles from the Dalles, got into a difficulty about some land a few days ago, when Cleary went to McClure's house and shot him through the groin, from which he died. A son of McClure's then shot Cleary through the brain, killing him instantly. Cleary leaves a widow and two children, and McClure a widow and several children.

CITY.

[illegible] NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The Engineering and Mining Journal of New York, May [illegible] has an excellent article on the Pacific Rail[illegible] from which we clip the subjoined para[illegible]:

"The enterprise is in the hands of men who are [illegible] considered to be at once intellectually [illegible] to manage such vast affairs, and morally [illegible] to be entrusted with them. The advan[illegible] of the route chosen have been enumerated [illegible] former article. Every reader in the [illegible] has learned by virtue of the mysterious [illegible] the climate of this northern belt [illegible] that of regions further south; that [illegible] is the Mecca of consumptives, having [illegible] of New York without its damp[illegible]; and that from Minnesota west[illegible] grow steadily milder, modified [illegible] winds from the Pacific and other in[illegible]; that Dakotah has the climate of Io[illegible] drier and more invigorating air; Mon[illegible] of Ohio, without its winter discomfort [illegible]; while Washington and Oregon on the Pacific coast, have the climate of [illegible] Virginia, with more rain and cooler [illegible] nights.

[illegible]ly well known, moreover, that [illegible] is in progress of vigorous construction. [illegible] men having been employed [illegible] 1870. At this time the grading is [illegible] for 265 miles from Lake Superior [illegible] border of Dakota; trains are running [illegible] 135 miles of completed track; the [illegible] river is bridged at Brainerd and once [illegible] to the lakes by rail, and track-laying [illegible] ing westward. By September [illegible] will run to the Red river, and the [illegible] probably be far advanced toward the [illegible] bend of the Missouri river in Central Da[illegible]. In the mean time work has been com[illegible] on the Pacific coast; a [illegible] is already employed in the valley of [illegible] river, and hereafter the work of [illegible] will be pushed both eastward and [illegible] toward the center with such rapidity as [illegible] of the road may justify. * * *

[illegible] is a steady stream of immigration [illegible] new Northwest, which this road [illegible] half a dozen steamers will run this [illegible] Duluth, the commercial center which [illegible] the butt of jokers, but is now a fact [illegible] and growth. The measures [illegible] is maturing will inaugurate [illegible] colonization, surpassing what [illegible] hitherto. The warlike irrup[illegible] Europe will be outdone by the [illegible] of Europe hitherward; and [illegible] will yet arise to write, not [illegible] of a Tartar tribe, but the transla[illegible]

[illegible] IMPOSTERS.—There are enough [illegible] for charity where help is really [illegible] submitting to imposition. We [illegible] recently, there has been quite an im[illegible] of professional beggars into the city—[illegible] who are the veriest bilks in the [illegible] Some of these great, strapping, lazy [illegible] could wield an axe or shovel or buck [illegible] effect if they only would, but [illegible] go round and by pitiful stories [illegible] and out lies) obtain the coin that [illegible] have worked for. A crippled baby [illegible] the business) is the decoy in one [illegible], the bilk affects to be deaf and [illegible]; another carries around a [illegible] from Tom Nokes and Tim Stokes, to [illegible] the bearer is the husband of a sick[illegible] the father of nine small children, all [illegible] measles, three of them cutting [illegible] of them feeling very well in con[illegible] having had nothing but one turnip [illegible] to eat since they arrived in San [illegible] September. Others have equally [illegible] false pretenses by which to [illegible] and swindle the public. Look [illegible] professional beggars; but at the same [illegible] an equally sharp look-out for the [illegible] of need or distress—there are many [illegible]

[illegible] road to Vancouver is rumored.

As a public [illegible], the improvement will com[illegible] for the cost, by enhancing the [illegible] property.

It is, however, an excellent busi[illegible], and the purchaser will probably [illegible] to get his money back whenever [illegible] to sell, though the price seems a large [illegible]

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW YORK CIRCUS.—This company will return from Walla Walla and play here one night only—next Wednesday.

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.—This evening the Philharmonic Association will give its tenth annual concert, consisting of an excellent selection of vocal and instrumental pieces—choruses, quartettes, solos, etc. In order to accommodate a large audience and to more comfortably seat them, than could be done in their own hall, the concert will be given at Oro Fino Theater. Reserved seats can be procured during to-day at Mr. McCormick's book store.

NEW BOOKS.—After nearly three months confinement, the result of accidental injuries, Mrs. Rosa Martin has again appeared out of doors, though compelled to go on two crutches. As before receiving her late injuries, she is struggling for a livelihood by canvassing for the sale of books. She has now an elegant, interesting and we might say a fascinating book, entitled "The Polar and Tropical Worlds"—a book of 800 pages, containing over 200 illustrations—by Dr. G. Hartwig, author of "The Sea and its Living Wonders," with additional chapters by Dr. A. H. Guernsey. It is a complete collection of facts about the men, the animals, the countries—everything in short pertaining to life and nature in the polar and tropical regions. It is not only thus an instructive work, but its style, peculiarly graphic, renders it an unusually interesting book. The price—$5 or $5 50, according to binding—considering the size, elegance of binding, richness of illustration, etc., makes it one of the cheapest books yet offered by subscription. "From Shore to Shore and other Poems," by Mrs. Phebe A. Hanaford, is another book offered by Mrs. Martin. This is a collection of poems and scraps from one of the most distinguished among the talented female writers of America—price in morocco binding only $2. Mrs. Martin also has "Mark Twain's Autobiography and First Romance." Let those who want to laugh buy this book. Either of these last mentioned books can be had immediately by calling at Mrs. Martin's residence, No. 169 Front street, at any hour when she is not out canvassing. The first book can only be purchased by subscription.

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCIES—The O. & C. Railroad Co., probably in view of the possibility of an overflow, are graveling their road bed from the long trestle bridge toward the mouth of the creek near J. B. Stephens' house.

AGAIN POSTPONED.—The Union Sabbath School picnic, which had been before postponed till to-morrow, has been further postponed till Saturday, the 10th inst., when, it is said, it will take place, "rain or shine."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

SADDLERY ESTABLISHMENT.—S. Sherlock & Co. are at Nos. 43, 45 and 52 Front street, with an immense stock of saddlery and harness goods with all the usual accompanying hardware and small goods. They are good workmen and fair dealers, and can be conscientiously recommended to the trade.

REMOVAL.—S. L. Stone, dealer in Variety Goods, Cigars and Tobacco, has removed from his old stand, corner First and Washington streets, to 108 First street, next door to Post Office. He has added considerably to his old stock and is fully prepared to wait upon his old customers, as well as the public in general. m26d1w

JUST ARRIVED.—B. L. Stone has just received a large supply of Gold and Silver Watches of all the best patterns made. Also, Gold and Silver Chains for Ladies and Gents and elegant Opera Chains.

Also, a large assortment of the finest Jewelry and Precious Stones, Gold Headed Canes, a large lot of Spectacles, Plate and Silver Ware, and all kinds of Clocks. Mr. Stone is satisfied with quick sales and small profits.

Look at the price of Clothing at the store of Kohn & Fishel. Examine the superior quality of their Goods and you will be convinced they are worthy of your patronage. They will sell you a splendid Dress Suit, black or blue, for $25. An A 1 Cass. Business suit for $17 50. First class Blue or Black Beaver Suit for $25, and some cheaper. Summer Goods, such as Cheviot, Tweed, White Marseilles, Pique and Linen Suits at extremely low prices. Their stock of Furnishing Goods, White Shirts, Socks, &c., is the best in the city and at extremely low prices. Best Star White Shirt at $2 00.

A FAVORABLE NOTORIETY.—The good reputation and extended use of "BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" for Coughs, Colds and Throat Diseases has caused the Troches to be extensively imitated. Obtain only the genuine "Brown's Bronchial Troches," and do not be influenced by those who make more profit by selling worthless imitations.

☞ More than 500,000 people bear testimony to the wonderful curative effects of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. For palpitation or irregular action of the heart, all severe, acute or lingering coughs, and for "Liver Complaint" or "Biliousness" it is unequalled. Sold by all druggists.

You Haven't Tried Them.

Victim of debility, who is responsible for your feebleness? Not yourself, you will say, for you've done all you could to cure it. That's a mistake on your part.

You haven't tried Hostetter's Bitters.

Gloomy dyspeptic, with an uneasy stomach and a world weary face, of course you don't think yourself responsible for your own torments. But you are. It's easy to see from your condition that you haven't tried Hostetter's Bitters.

Billious sufferer, it is not your fault, you think, that your symptoms grow worse day by day. Blue pill doesn't do you any good. Very likely. But you can be brought round for all that.

Why haven't you tried Hostetter's Bitters?

Friend on whom fever and ague alternately blows hot and cold, and whose brain seems to be bursting with the effects of some powerful drug, do you assume the responsibility? O, no! You've taken pills of quinine, and all the regulation medicines. What could you do more? One thing more—the very thing that would have exempted you from all the pangs that now rack you.

You have never tried Hostetter's Bitters.

Nervous invalid, what have you to say? You plead that you have taken all the nervines of the pharmacopeia. If they have done you no good, it is not your fault. You are not responsible. Wrong, all wrong. You have, in reality, nobody to blame but yourself.

Why haven't you tried Hostetter's Bitters?

For all the above-named complaints, the Bitters are absolute specifics.

Burnett's Cocoaine is the best Hair dressing.

GENERALITIES.

The Portland Press (Me.) announced recently that "a public breakfast of ministers and members of the Evangelical churches will be held this morning," etc That would be good news for Cannibal islanders

There is a lamentable report direct from New York. Emma Claus, aged sixteen, attended church to be married, the bridegroom failed to appear, she then confessed that he had seduced her, and returned to her room and shot herself

Said a pompous husband, whose wife had stolen up behind him and given him a kiss "Madam, I consider such an act indecorous!" "Excuse me," said the wife, "I didn't know it was you!"

Fasten a nail or key to a string and suspend it to your thumb and finger and the nail will oscillate like a pendulum Let some one place his open hand under the nail and it will change to a circular motion Then let a third person place his hand on your shoulder, and the nail becomes in a moment stationary.

A new George Washington story was told at a recent Republican meeting in Alexandria Virginia, by a colored speaker named John Seaton, who said in a rather personal debate "That man Beekley has made a personal attack on me, but I won't little myself to answer him He 'minds me of a tale what my grandmother told me 'bout old Gen'l Washington. Gin'l was coming from church one day, and he saw a pretty little white thing in the road, and shot at it The thing shot back in its peculiar way, and Gin'l Washington had to bury his clothes A man makes nothing by fighting with skunks"

THE SNAKE CHARMERS —Among the sights bordering on the marvelous which attracts the traveler's attention in Egypt, beyond even the mysterious proceedings of the Cairene magician who professes to summon the dead to life, may be mentioned the interesting performances of the snake charmers These men belong to the order of Rifaced Dervishes They profess to discover the presence of any venomous snake which may be concealed in the house, a very common occurrence in the warm climate of Egypt, and, if there be such snakes, to allure them from their hiding place

The first measure usually resorted to by the wary spectators is to cause the performers to be thoroughly searched in the court-yard previously to their being introduced into the interior of the house, lest they may have snakes hidden either in the folds of their "caftans," or long flowing robes, or in those of their "libas," or baggy trousers Sometimes they are forced to deposit their voluminous garments in some corner of the court-yard, and, as an additional precaution, they are made to tuck up the loose sleeves of their "kamis," or shirts, after these have been examined carefully as the rest of their clothes When all possible precautions have been taken the snake charmers are allowed to enter the house Immediately upon admission they assume an air of mystery, strike the walls and floor with a short palm stick, whistle, make a chucking noise with the tongue, spit on the ground, exclaiming, "I adjure ye, if ye be above or below, that ye come forth, I adjure ye, by the most great name, if ye be obedient, come forth, and if ye be obedient, die!" However close may have been the previous search in every corner of the apartment, and in every piece of furniture and drapery in about ten minutes, generally speaking, after these exclamations, a snake is dislodged from some one of the projecting cupboards with which most rooms are lined, or drops from the wood-work of the ceiling The really incredulous expression on the part of the spectator, who may imagine the snake [illegible] is to make the snake charmer [illegible] indignant He generally seizes one of the snakes by the neck, and, after disarming its fangs, tears him to pieces with [illegible] spitting out the bits on the ground [illegible] excited, defiant air

The only solution of the mystery is, that as these dervishes make it a practice to tame snakes, live habitually with them, and are very cleanly in their habits, their bodies and clothes become deeply impregnated with the pungent oil which collects on the surface of the snake's skin, and thus the latter reptile, being gifted with olfactory nerves, is immediately made aware of an odor which appears to indicate the presence of members of its family, and comes forth from his hiding place to greet them

ASTONISHED CONDUCTOR —"Get aboard, limpey" said a pert railroad conductor to a plainly dressed lame man, standing on the platform, waiting for the signal to depart "Get aboard, old limpey, or you'll be left" At the signal the old gentleman quietly stepped aboard and took a seat by himself. When the conductor, in taking up the tickets, came to him and demanded his, he replied, "I do not pay fare on this road" "Then I will put you off at the next station" The conductor passed on, and a passenger, who had seen the transaction, said to him "Do you know that old gentleman?" "No, I do not" "Well, it is Mr. [illegible], the [illegible] of this road." The conductor [illegible] and bit his lips, but went on taking up the tickets. As soon as done he returned to "old limpy," [illegible], I resign my station as conductor." "Sit down here, young man, I do not [illegible] you, but we run this road for accommodate the public, and we [illegible] unable rule to treat every per[illegible] strict civility, whatever garb he [illegible] whatever infirmity he suffers This [illegible] upon every one of our em[illegible] [illegible] not remove you for what you [illegible] must not be repeated" The conductor afterward never saw among his passengers another "old limpey."

THE ARMY IN CONGRESS —The Army and Navy Journal says the record of the present Congress shows in the Senate three major-generals and additional by brevet, three brigadier-generals and one by brevet, three colonels, one lieutenant-colonel one chaplain, one captain, one cadet, and one private The infantry arm of the service is represented by ten Senators, the cavalry by three, and the artillery by one Seven Senators are members of the Grand Army of the Republic The House has two hundred and thirty-seven members, of whom, sixty-two have been soldiers, fifty with the record of a Union soldier, and twelve with that of a rebel soldier The people have returned to the House, of the men who served in the Union army, five who held the rank of major general, and four who held that rank by brevet, seven of the rank of major-general, and five by brevet, two colonels and one by brevet, one lieutenant-colonel, three majors, with one brevet, five captains, two surgeons, two paymasters, one judge-advocate, one corporal, four privates, and seven soldier members whose rank is unknown The army of the rebellion is represented by one major-general, who received his military education at West Point, two brigadier generals, and ten of various lower grades.

"NOT ASHAMED"—It must have been with infinite chuckle, and many of what Cooper describes as old Leatherstocking's long inward laughters, that Henry Ward Beecher, during a late vacation, heard one of his own published sermons delivered in an obscure village At the close of service he accosted the "divine," and said, "That was a very good discourse, how long did it take you to write it?"

"Oh I tossed it off one evening when I had leisure," was the reply

"Indeed!" said Beecher "It took me longer than that to think out the frame-work of that very sermon"

"Are you Henry Ward Beecher?"

"I am," was the reply.

"Well, then," said the unabashed preacher, "all that I have to say is that I am not ashamed to preach one of your sermons anywhere"

We find among the wholesale dealers some complaints that money does not come in as plentifully as it should in proportion to the credits given; still there is not any such stringency as to particularly embarrass business

The aggregate of trade for the month just closed was large as compared with May, 1870 Throughout the month there was a fair trade done in all wholesale and jobbing lines while in a few the sales foot up very handsomely indeed Toward the close, agricultural machinery farm wagons and tools moved off very actively Hardware lines did a good business through the entire month The same remark may apply to the wholesale and grocery lines In dry goods business was somewhat checked by the inclement weather, but orders for summer styles are now coming in freely May proved a good month for dealers in boots and shoes the heavy styles being about closed out.

Produce—The news of serious decline in prices of wheat and flour at San Francisco has a depressing effect upon our local market so far as shippers are concerned though millers and jobbers are still holding at prices heretofore quoted The recent heavy shipments of flour to San Francisco which are mentioned in the reports as having flattened the market, occurred in consequence of the sudden chang[illegible] of freights by the opposition steamship company Large quantities had been kept back in anticipation of cheaper freight rates, and finally when the price was reduced everybody rushed forward with their flour It is not at all probable that another rush of the kind will occur for the reason that several of the largest mills have shut down and others will very soon follow suit The stock of flour now on hand cannot be much in excess of the local needs from now till harvest

Provisions are dull, in short there is so nearly nothing doing that it is difficult to afford any quotations
